

Asian Review

Asian Review is a refereed journal, published since 1987, by Institute of Asian Studies, Chulalongkorn University. It is an interdisciplinary journal publishing research articles from a wide range of academic disciplines in the humanities and social sciences to promote an understanding of contemporary Asia. Areas of special concern include cultural studies, ethnicity, development, economics, foreign affairs, language, literature, migration, politics and religion.